Amarillo Center Will Be Closed In 1957 According to Statement

Amarillo Center, West Texas State College's evening school in Amarillo, will be abandoned with the completion of the Canyon-Amarillo Expressway.

The activities of the Center will be moved to the campus in Canyon, the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Colleges announced in Austin Friday after approving the move.

The board instructed its executive secretary, Claude Isbell, to notify the owners of the residence at 2101 Harrison that the building might be returned to them in 1957. The home was donated by the late Allen Early and Mrs. Early.

Until the expressway is completed, the night program will continue at Amarillo Center, Dr. James P. Cornette, West Texas State president, said.

Dr. Cornette met with the board of regents in Austin and news of the anticipated closing was announced at noon.

The Center has been in operation since 1942, and has had more than 16,000 students enrolled since its beginning. First year enrollment was 351 and last year's was 2,353, according to Dr. Roy Boger, director of the Center.

Dr. Cornette said the night program of the college will not be abandoned nor taken away from Amarillo. "The urban area of the city is being extended with the expressway. Transportation to the new location will be rapid and safe, and the move will enable the college to greatly expand its program, taking advantage of all the Canyon campus facilities."

Dr. Boger said advantages in the move will be in utilizing the full laboratory and library facilities of the college as well as having adequate classroom space. He added that every college and graduate course offered on the main campus would be available under the new program, something not possible at the Center. He said that sciences, as an example, would be available to the student able to attend night classes only.

Amarillo Center has almost outgrown the Early residence. Last summer an extensive remodeling plan was undertaken to provide more classroom space. Rooms were partitioned, closets removed and porches enclosed and rooms over the home's garage were also pressed into service. Through crowding, as many as 500 persons attended classes there in a single night.

Dr. Cornette said that a bus service from downtown Amarillo to the campus at Canyon might be instituted. The college operated such a service during the day for full-time students who live in Amarillo, but most preferred to use their own cars and the service was dropped. He said almost 300 students now commute regularly from Amarillo to Canyon.

A member of the Early family told Dr. Cornette the home, which Religious Census To Be Taken Sun.

"Six Canyon churches will work together Sunday afternoon in taking the religious census of the town," said Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Plans and organization for taking the census were almost completed Monday. The group will meet at the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, and get the census started about 2 o'clock. They hope to complete the task within two hours and be finished by 5 o'clock that evening.

Churches represented in the census taking are the Presbyterian, First Christian, Methodist, Assembly of God, First Baptist, and the Church of Christ. The workers request the cooperation of the public in getting the religious census completed. If they are to finish the task within the three-hour period they have set they must get a comparative degree of cooperation from the public. Promptness in providing the desired information will be a great factor in speeding up the census.

This will be the first city-wide religious census of Canyon in three years. Approximately 150 or 200 persons are expected to take part. Last minute plans and details will be announced to the group shortly before 2 o'clock at the Baptist Church.

Bill Introduced For Benefit of E-way Right-of-way

Senator Grady Hazlewood has introduced in the legislature a bill which allowed counties to condemn cemetery property for widening of highways. While this is a general law and applies to all counties of the State, Randall county is especially interested.

There is a law which prohibits counties from condemning cemetery properties for highway purposes.

County Judge Roy Joe Stevens states that the owners of Memory Garden, located north of Canyon, were put on notice that a widening project was underway long before any bodies were interred in the cemetery. All of the improvements were made in spite of the warning of the Commissioners Court that this property would be needed for highway expansion at some future date.

The fate of the bill in the legislature will be closely watched by Randall county citizens.

Youth Speaker To Hold Revival Meet

Rev. Tom Landers, evangelist, will be the speaker for the youth revival of the First Baptist Church February 18-19-20 each night at 7:30.

Theme of the youth revival is "My Decision, Christ."

A sunrise breakfast at Palo Duro Canyon at 6:30 will begin the Saturday activities of the revival. On Saturday night there will be a youth rally at the church which will include churches from all this area, as far away as Dalhart. The groups will meet at 6:30 for supper and services will follow.

Winners Named In Scout and Cub Display Contest

In commemoration of Scout Week, last week, the Boy Scouts gave the programs for the weekly meeting of the Lions and Rotary Clubs. Earlier in the week the boys had been busy putting displays in the windows of the business men around the square. Window displays in Canyon were designed by Troop 97 and 66 Scouts, and Cub Pack 31. Troop 34 and Cub Pack 34 in Happy had their window displays there.

Final results of the judging was Troop 66 won first place in Canyon. They had three displays in different windows. The three windows in which their displays appeared were Thompson's Hardware, Warwick's, and Western Auto. Second place in the display contest went to Troop 34 of Happy. This display was in the Miller TV store, Happy. Third place went to Canyon's Troop 97 that had window displays in the window of T. A. Black and Roy Cheatham's Clothier.

No Expressway Money Has Yet Been Received

Judge Roy Joe Stevens stated Tuesday that the Commissioners Court had approved the bonds which were voted to purchase the right-of-way for the expressway. He stated that no money for the bond issue had yet been received, but was expected in a short time.

Surveys are being made for the expressway by the State Highway Commission but no announcements have yet been made of the ground needed for the highway.

Taxpayers of Randall county approved a bond issue of $900,000 in order to buy this right-of-way for the expressway. The buyer of the bonds stated that the money would be in Canyon within 45 to 60 days.

$160 Donated to Girl Scouts and Library

It was announced at the last meeting of the Sue Hite Club that the club had grossed $215 on its chicken-spaghetti supper.

A check for $80 of the net proceeds was presented to the Girl Scouts and another check for $80 was presented to the Randall County Library with the stipulation that $30 of the amount be spent for books for the Ola Davis Hill shelf.

Members of the club are especially appreciative of the assistance of all to the success of the supper. Aids that were given toward lowering expenses are gratefully acknowledged and the wonderful cooperation of all through the large attendance will long be remembered with a word of thanks to each.

J. Evetts Haley Named Regent on Texas Tech Board

J. EVETTS HALEY

Announcement was made Friday by Governor Allan Shivers of the appointment of J. Evetts Haley of Canyon as a member of the Texas Tech Board of Regents. His term of office expires on Feb. 19, 1961.

Haley is one of the best known historians of the Southwest. In addition to having authored several books he has served as secretary-manager of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society; president of the organization; and member of the Texas Tech faculty for three years. His mother, now deceased, was a member of Tech's Board of Regents several years ago, while a resident of Midland.

Story of Wheat Shown in Display

A novel exhibit, showing the story of wheat from its harvest to its ultimate consumption, has been put on display in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

The Texas Wheat Growers Association and the museum obtained the exhibit from the Oregon Wheat Growers Association after it had been shown during the recent National Wheat Growers Association convention in Amarillo.

The display utilizes small trains, trucks, and farm machinery to show the road of wheat from the farm to elevators, to flour mills to the bakeries of the nation. The display is driven by motor.

C. Boone McClure, director of the museum, said the display will remain at the museum, but will also be shown at such places as the Tri-State Fair.

Cold Wave on Plains Drives Mercury Down

The coldest weather of the winter hit the Panhandle Thursday when the mercury sagged to 10 degrees above zero.

Cold weather continued for only a few days, with clear, balmy temperature returning again by Sunday and Monday. The sun was shining all day Sunday in spite of the colder weather than usual.

State To Report on Hiway Needs to South of City

Judge Roy Joe Stevens stated Tuesday that he had word from the State Highway Commission that survey to the South of Canyon on Highway 87 was completed, and that the State would notify Randall county just how much land would be needed to construct the highway.

It will be recalled that on previous occasions the State had stated that a right-of-way of 300 feet would be required of Randall county south of Canyon to the railroad and that the balance of the right-of-way needs would be 250 feet to Happy.

New Train To Start Sunday

Santa Fe will start its new train from Lubbock to Amarillo next Sunday. The train is being exhibited in various towns along the line this week, but there will be no exhibit in Canyon.

According to the schedule the new train will run South at 9:55 a. m. and will return at 5:01 p. m. The equipment will consist of Diesel engine, standard baggage car, chair car, and sleeper, which will cut into the main line at Amarillo.

Notice was given in December that the Santa Fe would ask the State Railroad Commission to discontinue the run between Amarillo and Lubbock for lack of business since Uncle Sam had discontinued mail service. The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce took up the fight, and this train is the result. The Santa Fe says that the train will continue for one year on a trial basis.

Buy, Build, Live in Canyon!

Contractor Gets Job of Building Randall Hall

The Board of Regents accepted the bid of the Floyd Richards Construction Company of Amarillo of $370,972 for razing old Randall Hall and building the west unit of the new building.

The addition will house 140 girls. This construction will make the third dormitory to be built on the campus. The wing for Cousins Hall and the addition to Stafford Hall for boys are nearing completion.

Girls who had rooms in the old part have been moved to other quarters so that work may be started at once.

The projected addition will form a third two-story wing, fronting on Fourth Avenue and extending along 24th Street to the alley. A one-story addition will continue along 24th to Fifth Avenue, along Fifth and back to the present structure, forming a completely enclosed square. Brick and stone will be used, matching the veneer of the present building. Entrances and offices will be placed on all three facing streets.

Two private lounges and a reception lounge will be included in the addition, along with a laundry service room. One of the lounges will be a rustic design with flagstone floors, brick walls, a wood-burning fireplace and a kitchenette.

A parking lot will be developed on the west side of the building, with a brick wall joining the building on the north, forming a shield. Further parking will be spaced along 24th Street so two streets will be free.

When the Randall addition is completed, about 450 girls may be accommodated in college dormitories. Nearly 100 are now housed in "New" Randall, and more than 200 can be placed in Cousins and its new addition.

The Richards Construction Company was the builder of WT's new Student Union Building, completed in January 1954.

"Old Randall" was the first dormitory built at West Texas State College, and the home of more than 2,000 girls over the past 10 years.

The tan stucco building was constructed in 1916 as a private enterprise, and named "Huntleigh Hall." It was the only large rooming house for West Texas State Normal, and was completed the same year the present Administration Building was occupied.

During its early years, the building housed about 110 girls in one wing, and in the other wing were a kitchen and dining room. Until Cousins Hall was completed in 1920, there were no other accommodations for either boys or girls except in small residences and a few rooming houses.

In 1924, after Dr. J. A. Hill, then president of the college, had bought "Huntleigh Hall" on credit, the State Legislature authorized purchase by the state. For many years the dormitory operated as a co-op. Its name was changed to "Randall."

For a few months in 1918, according to Dr. Hill, the building was used as a barracks for 100 soldiers comprising a Student Army Training Camp unit.

W. T. Rifle Team To Shoot Feb. 25

The WT team, sponsored by Lt. Col. Edward Dreiss and Sgt. D. S. Owens, have won two postal matches with the University of Virginia and Colorado College. Scores are compared through the mail in a postal match.

Members of the team are Benny George, Canyon; Tommy Pool, Groom; Bob Weatherly, Wheeler; Gregory Dorough, Amarillo; and Darryl Powell, Pampa. Alternates are Don Bauer, Tulia; Gerald Downing, Canyon; and Don Singleton, Amarillo.

Panhandle A&M's team will fire at WT March 18-19, and the WT team will meet the Southwestern Invitational Meet in El Paso March 3-5.

Dr. Ima Barlow To Dallas Meeting

A planning session by the board of the Texas Council on Social Studies in Dallas Saturday will be attended by Miss Laura Roberts of Amarillo and Dr. Ima Barlow, professor of history at West Texas State College.

Miss Roberts, Amarillo High School teacher, is president of the council, and Dr. Barlow is representative to the board from District IX, Texas State Teachers Association.

The group Saturday will make plans for the organization's program and policies for the year. A workshop for social studies teachers is to be planned for the summer.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Weekly Press of the Nation Is Growing Strongest in Prestige

One of the oldest, strongest and best institutions in American life is the weekly newspaper. Almost anyone will agree that a town without a paper doesn't amount to much. The weekly is a running record of history—of life and death, of tragedy and achievement, of change and progress. It is a fighter of battles in causes it holds to be right—in politics, economics, civic problems of many kinds. It is close to the people who read it and whose activities make it. More than any other factor, probably, it binds the community together, providing purpose, coherence, and direction.

Yet, like so many other good and essential things, most of us take the country paper for granted. Year in and year out, without fail, it comes to us each week. It's not likely that many think of what life would be like without it.

Now and then, however, the weekly gets some of the credit it deserves. That has happened on several occasions in recent months. An interesting example is found in a bill introduced by Senator Daniel of Texas, on behalf of himself and Senator Johnson, the new majority leader, providing for the establishment of a National Library of Weekly Newspapers. A companion bill was introduced in the House by Representative Gentry of Tyler, Texas.

In a speech on the Senate floor, Senator Daniel said: "This bill would help to preserve that great portion of the true history of our Nation which is recorded in pioneer weekly newspapers and in currently published weekly papers of the United States. . . . During the early years of our Nation's history we had only weekly newspapers. Even today, the educational, social, political, and religious history of a great portion of our population can be found only in the files of these weekly publications. . . . There are thousands of weekly newspaper files which have been preserved. Others have been destroyed, and in the future there is likely to be continued loss of this valuable historical material unless something is done to encourage its preservation."

Another tribute came from a big daily newspaperman—Lloyd Taft, son of the late Senator Robert Taft, and assistant publisher of the Cincinnati Times. He told a press association gathering that "Big city papers talk more and more about editorial influence and exercise less and less of it, while weeklies continue to gain an advantage. . . ."

An extraordinary example of this influence occurred last November in South Carolina, a state in which nomination of the Democratic ticket has always been tantamount to election. Due to certain political developments, a feeling grew that this time the voters were getting a bad deal. A campaign was started urging that voters write in the name of J. Strom Thurmond instead of marking the ballot for the regular Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate. This campaign was supported by 73 of the state's 86 non-dailies, along with all but two of the 16 dailies.

Even though former Governor Thurmond is a popular figure in the South, success seemed impossible—no U. S. Senator had ever been elected by write-ins; the established political organizations were naturally 100 per cent against the movement, and South Carolina balloting methods make the write-in process mechanically difficult. But the press shot the works on Thurmond's behalf. The result: There was an avalanche of write-ins and he won by a majority which, under the circumstances, was all but unbelievable—143,444 to 83,525. The papers were so decisive a factor in bringing this about that Editor & Publisher wrote: "When J. Strom Thurmond took his place in the United States Senate . . . he could have raised his good right hand, if he were so inclined, and sworn truthfully that he represented the Fourth Estate."

We Must Have Foreign Trade to Keep Wheels of Industry Going

A good many people seem to think that the United States is economically self-sufficient—that everything we need in war or peace can be found within our own borders.

This would be a happy situation if it existed. But it doesn't—as Secretary of Commerce Weeks recently pointed out.

He said, "Of the 38 important minerals and metals vital to American production, the United States is self-sufficient in only nine. We cannot enjoy peace or wage war without adequate imports of the other 29, a large portion of which must come from overseas. We must be prepared to bring in essential raw materials by ship."

That isn't all. Foreign trade is a two-way street, and it's a busy thoroughfare in both directions. Great numbers of farmers and industrial workers depend, directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, on our exports for their jobs, markets and livelihood. Those foreign sales are vital to armies of people who may have never seen an ocean, and who live in the great mid-continent industrial and agricultural regions. And most of that traffic moves by ship, just as does the traffic in imports.

Obviously, it would be potentially disastrous to depend on foreign merchant marines to provide the service—they could be lost to us at once in case of war. That's why we must keep a big and up-to-date American merchant marine plying the high seas.

Waggoner Carr of Lubbock To Be Speaker of the House

Waggoner Carr of Lubbock will be the Speaker of the House of Representatives in Austin, according to the Plainview Evening Herald. The newspaper comes out with a brilliant approval of Carr and what he has accomplished for this section of Texas in the House.

Naturally all West Texas is interested in the future of Waggoner Carr and wishes him well in his ambitions to serve the State of Texas.

His opponent will be a Dallas county man. This should be the same as putting him in the finals since the country boys always win over the big city boys in such races.

More power to Carr; and best wishes for his election. He is a good man.

Everybody is willing to help the other fellow provided he has the money to pay for it.

If public speakers would prepare their speeches better, more people might listen to them.

Not everyone who plans a life can live it.

Russia Again Elects Prime Minister To Head the Red Party

The strong man of Russia was not selected to replace the puddy prime minister. The fact that Malenkov admitted his weakness in handling the situation led to a lot of speculation in the press, as well as over the air.

The strong man is Khrushchev, a military man, but he stepped aside and nominated Bulganin for the job of ruling the Reds.

No one knows just what the result will be. Uncle Sam, as usual, is being cussed by the Reds of Russia, who favor the Reds of China.

Uncle Sam started the whole ugly mess; in spite of the fact that we gave the Reds all of their fighting material to stop the Germans.

So far we have given the Reds everything they demanded, starting away back before World War II stopped.

The Reds are like so many little boys who want the world, and will cry if they do not get their way. "Commie bums," declares one commentator. If we were to call the commies their most effective name, it would be a whole lot stronger than "bums."

The funny thing about Russia is that no one in power seems to trust the other fellow. They are all afraid of their huds. This is the source of weakness which no one can discount.

Reds are Reds whether they be in Moscow or in China. They cannot be trusted to do the white thing.

Railroading Is Not Without Its Romantic Features at This Stage

Modern railroading, with all its comfort and certainty and safety, may seem to be pretty much of a straight routine operation to the layman.

But the unusual and the colorful still are found in railroading—and the men who operate the trains are always ready to cope with whatever occurs.

A short time ago, a man fishing from a Kansas bridge got his line tangled with a railroad's automatic signal system. Lights flashed red over a 107-mile stretch of track and 17 trains ground to a halt.

In another part of the country, railroadmen were faced with the problem of getting a circus giraffe under a low bridge. They solved it by dropping a carrot on the floor of the open-top cage—then hustling the train under the bridge while the giraffe's head was down.

The railroads are often called upon to perform unusual services. When a boiler breakdown threatened to stop production in a midwestern spaghetti factory, a railroad saved the day by supplying the plant with steam from an old locomotive. The shortest passenger train on record was made up in a remote sawmill town to rush a mother-to-be on an emergency run to a hospital. The baby was born en route, with the conductor assisting.

There's always been romance in railroading. There have always been challenges. That's just as true now as it was in the old days.

Birthrate Grows; Educational Demands Increase With Years

The cause of education is growing by leaps throughout the nation.

The birthrate has been climbing ever since World War II. Those who are in position to know claim that the birthrate will continue to grow.

We saw charts which were published by a great university in the middle west. These charts attempted to point out what was going to happen to our educational system by the end of 1967. The growth as pictured in these charts is phenomenal.

Based upon the past, these charts show that high schools will increase in enrollment from 6,478,431 enrolled this year, to 10,979,044 in 1967.

That elementary schools will be called upon to provide rooms and teachers for 33,559,000, whereas there is an enrollment this year of 28,049,000.

That college enrollment will likewise increase 31 per cent during this period of time.

This large increase in population means that schools must be expanded in order to take care of the growing problem.

School officials generally are scratching their heads today; if and when this acute problem reaches 1960, there will be a great demand for Congress to do something more than President Eisenhower asked the lawmakers to do in his message this week.

Labor Unions Will Join Forces and Become Greater in Politics

Laborites are getting together, with one great union formed by AFL and CIO. The big group has ignored John L. Lewis' Miners, since he has been ignoring other branches of labor.

Labor may be expected to count more in politics following the union than ever before. The big industrialists may pay their poll taxes, but they do not vote in proportion to their strength.

Lewis was a member of AFL until he withdrew to form CIO. His body is a branch of CIO but independent. One of these days there will be a funeral, in which John L. will play the leading role, and his Miners will seek a spot in labor's ranks.

The fight that has been waged between AFL and CIO over members will come to an end, which will be one of the great advantages in the union.

Recruits Needed in All of the Branches of Military Service

Every branch of the military is recruiting men from this section of Texas. Recruiters are busy these days, but the Navy seems to be the favored spot for the men of the Plains.

There is hardly a spare drop of water in this section, and very few Plainsmen have ever seen a sufficient body of water to float much of a boat. The big drop appeals to Plainsmen.

Here is hoping that recruiters will fill their quotas, since every man must enter the service or be rejected as physically unfit for military service. The latter is a deep cut into the pride of most young men who are of the opinion that they are physical monsters, capable of doing most any physical job.

There are some people in Canyon who believe that everybody wants to know just exactly how they feel and why.

Live and learn, according to the old saying, but many of our best minds stop learning after reaching 40.

PanTech Farms To Hold Sale on April 14, 1955

At PanTech Farms, Route 2, Panhandle, the test of ability to gain in beef cattle is nearing the last lap of the fifth consecutive year of such tests. In these tests purebred bull calves, owned by beef cattle breeders of Northwest Texas are self-fed a growing ration for 140 days to determine the inherent ability to gain rapidly. These breeders, in cooperation with Texas Technological College, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U.S.D.A. make the test possible.

Large differences in gain between individual bulls as well as between sire groups has been found. On the gain ability test at PanTech this year are 105 bulls representing 19 different herds throughout Northwest Texas. The bulls were officially placed on test November 15, 1954, and to date the entire group has averaged 2.62 pounds per day gain. The top ten sire groups averaged 2.91.

After the 140 day feeding period a Field Day and auction will be held. The sale order will be determined on ability to gain coupled with conformation grade. This Field Day and sale will be held at PanTech Farms, April 14, 1955.

RED TRADE

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson recently declared that trade with the Communist world in "carefully screened non-strategic items" might help promote basic understanding that would "ultimately contribute to peace in the world." This view, representing a reversal on the Secretary's part, was presented as he and three other cabinet members urged extension of reciprocal trade.

THAT MAKES IT QUITE CLEAR

Many of us are slow on posting up on Einstein's new theory because we haven't got a clear idea of his first one.

A western professor can help us in this respect.

"When a man holds a pretty girl on his lap for an hour it seems like a minute. But when he sits on a hot stove a minute it seems to him like an hour. That's relativity."

NON-DISCRIMINATION

President Eisenhower has set up a new Committee on Government Employment policy within his own executive organization to prevent discrimination on the basis of race, creed or color in Government employment.

CEASE-FIRE

President Eisenhower has said he would like to see the United Nations endeavor to work out a cease-fire between Communist China, entrenched on the mainland, and Nationalist China, based on Formosa and nearby islands. The President's suggestion was welcomed at the United Nations where British and New Zealanders had been awaiting this course.

Interior of New Gymnasium at Canyon High School

The new addition at Canyon High School contains facilities for Physical Education, Homemaking, and Science. The modern gymnasium is 99 feet long and 80 feet wide. The basketball court for regulation games is 90 feet in length and 48 feet in width. The folding seats will seat 840 people. Locker rooms and shower rooms for both boys and girls are located on the west side of the gymnasium. The new Homemaking Department, consisting of a food laboratory, sewing laboratory, and living room area, is found on the east side of the building. A modern Science Laboratory to meet the needs of teaching advanced sciences is also included in this area. The area in the new addition is 15,824 square feet. The contract price of the building was $133,402.00, not including architect fees, or approximately $8.43 per square foot. This area when completed will meet a very urgent need at Canyon High School. The Board of Education of the Canyon Independent School District wishes to take this opportunity to thank the patrons, the faculty, and the students for the wholehearted support they have given toward the improvement of educational opportunities in our school district. If we invest in the youth of today, we can in some measure secure for the future the kind of citizens which we can be proud of—citizens who will do their part in the promotion of our national ideals.

Japan reports a favorable balance of trade in 1954.

Old fashioned camp meetings were one of the big events in the lives of the settlers of the Texas Republic, and they prepared for such meetings for weeks ahead of time, with vigor equalled only by their preparations for Fourth of July celebrations. Thus observes a witness of those days, Dr. John Washington Lockhart, whose personal letters and memoirs are contained in a limited book, printed for members of the Lockhart family.

The camp meeting was made known to all the settlers for many miles, and there would be as many as 1,500 people attending—and needing to be fed. Those living in the locality where the meeting was held would prepare for weeks ahead of time in order to help feed the "hungry multitudes." The meeting would begin, Dr. Lockhart explained, rather mildly, as "the ladies had to meet at one another's tents and talk over the news for the first few days. After that, it became a matter of business."

The preacher began by describing the habitation of the blessed, the extreme happiness of those whose every want was anticipated and who were completely without care. Then he led his audience in the other direction, until he held them spellbound on "the brink of Hell."

"There, in imagination, you could see the doomed souls writhing in mortal agony, deep down in the pit of sulphurous burning, and perhaps a soul would rise and in the deepest agony cry for one drop of water, when his cry would be answered with molten lead poured down his already parched throat."

On these occasions, Dr. Lockhart wrote, "Old Scratch" would be utterly routed, "horses, foot and dragoon, from the grounds, but too often only to take up his refuge around and about the grounds, in the brush, where he could be seen hovering over a jug of good old whisky."

The people of those days clung to their traditions, even to using a ram's horn to call the congregation to worship, in imitation of the ram's horn used in blowing down the walls of Jericho.

Services began about 9 o'clock each morning, and lasted till far into the night. After the morning service, feasts were prepared in the tents of all those staying near the meeting places, and all were invited to eat, since "the stranger at the gate" must not go hungry. The same procedure was repeated at supper, which followed an afternoon service beginning at 3 o'clock.

As it began to get dark, Negroes were sent around the grounds, lighting huge bonfires to illuminate the entire premises. The night services, Dr. Lockhart said, were special occasions for the younger people, who congregated at the altar to plead for mercy.

The meeting lasted two weeks, and broke up after the second Sunday. The campers took down their tents, loaded their furniture onto their wagons, and after several hours of saying goodbye to the friends they would not see again until another camp meeting was held, were ready to move back home again.

A Tribute To Washington's Birthday!

The birthday of the man who carved out the future of the United States is celebrated throughout this land . . and in many foreign countries. We refer to him affectionately as "The Father of Our Country," and, indeed that is what he was. Now, as our nation is going through another period of rebirth and rededication to the principles of Freedom, it is well to give George Washington even added laurels. For the truths he uttered then are now as vital to America's safety, well-being and progress as they were when our commonwealth was born. Let every American revere the name and the works of this truly great man!

COURT OF HONOR

Canyon Court of Honor will be held Monday night, Feb. 21, at the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 o'clock, for Scout Troops 97 and 66.

Free picture show passes will be given to the troop with the most guests present.

The public is given a cordial invitation to attend.

TROOP 66 WORKS ON SIGNALS

At its weekly meeting Troop 66 worked on signaling. A Court of Honor was planned for next week. Continuous plans were made to be worked upon until Field Day, April 23-24-25.

A camp was also planned for February 25.

NO DRINKING WATER THERE

The regiment was trekking through the desert; it was arid and parched and not a drop of water was to be found. One recruit sat sadly on a stone, his head in his hands.

"What's the matter with him?" asked the sergeant.

"Homesickness," said Private Smith.

"We've all got that." "Yes, but his is worse than ours. His father owns a saloon."

NOW, WITH A BRASS RAIL—

A Yankee sportsman stopped at the hot noontide outside a croffer's cottage in the Highlands and requested a glass of milk. The hospitable Highlander added a dash of whiskey to the glass. The American drank with increasing satisfaction. When he had finished said: "Say, friend, one thousand dollars for that cow!"

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means to express our heartfelt gratitude to our many friends and neighbors for all the help and kindness shown to us during the illness of our beloved husband, father, and brother; and now in the days of our bereavement may God graciously bless one and all. Mrs. Odie Collins, Byron and Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings and family.

We wish to take this opportunity of thanking members of the fire department for their prompt and efficient answer to the fire alarm at our place recently. Other damage was most surely prevented. Men outnumber Women Hospital Treatments

Recent tabulations show that, as far as health is concerned, the male species is evidently the weaker sex. Not only do women have a life span which averages six years longer, but they stay in better health during their lifetime than do their male counterparts.

A recent hospital survey showed that male patients in hospitals outnumbered women patients by over 77,000, as of 1953. The total hospital occupancy figures showed 642,156 men and 564,436 women in the country's hospitals. Of course, some of the men in these hospitals might be there as the result of war injuries and permanent ailments incurred in serving their country in times of combat, but the fact that women must bear children and, therefore, occupy hospital beds for this purpose should offset this.

And figures on voluntary health insurance show that more females have this insurance service than do males. Thus, the females are not less thoroughly covered by hospital insurance than are men, generally the workers in the family, which some would have thought.

Dr. Frank G. Dickinson, director of the Bureau of Economic Research, of the American Medical Association, says that the higher hospital incidence of males implies that they are the "sicklier and more hospitalized sex."

Another consideration which some might think would offset the hospital occupancy figures is the fact that more males are born than females, and therefore it might be assumed that there are more males in the United States than females. However, the opposite is true. Females make up about 50.3 per cent of the population, while occupying only about 46.8 per cent of the hospital beds.

Another indication that males are quite susceptible to health deficiencies is the fact that the survey found that there were 11,400 more boys among patients under 15 years of age in hospitals.

Thus it seems that the head of the family—the man who wears the pants—the Tarzan of 1955, is not all he is cracked up to be. With a life expectancy of 65.9 years as compared with his wife's expectancy of 71.8 years, the male is definitely the most fragile article in the average American family.

WHAT HUSBANDS DON'T HEAR

"Have another drink, darling. You've only had ten so far tonight, and you always hold them so well."

"A new mink coat? Gracious no! My old one's good enough for five years yet."

"Don't worry because you lost $300 at poker tonight, dear. I'll just give up my beauty treatments for a year to make up for it."

"I think you should fire that homely secretary, honey. Why don't you brighten your office up with some gorgeous redhead?"

"Please cut my allowance in half, darling. I just can't manage so much money."

"Why don't you spend more evenings out with the boys?"

"You're my ideal man."

PARTICULAR PATRON

A waiter in a swank restaurant was horrified to see a patron washing his spoon in the fingerbowl, says Philnews. Calling the manager they hurried to the man's table.

"Why on earth," demanded the manager, "are you washing your spoon in the fingerbowl?"

"For the perfectly good reason," retorted the diner, "that I don't want to get ice cream all over my pocket."

(FOR AVERAGE FAMILY USE)

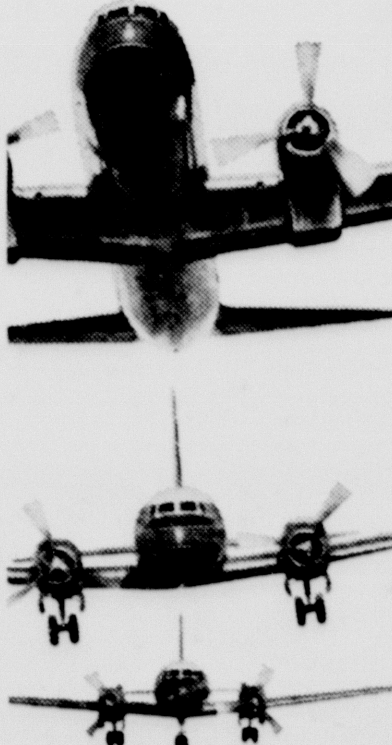

Home economists estimate that the average homemaker will dry approximately 16 washer loads of clothes a week. Some of these loads will dry in five minutes. Other fabrics take as much time as an hour — or more — to dry. The average load requires about 30 to 35 minutes to dry. Gas for drying clothes costs approximately 1 cent an hour. Based on the above averages, it is estimated that the homemaker will use a dryer about five hours a week — or 260 hours a year. See your dealer today. "It seems to me," the man replied curtly, "that a fellow who owns his own house, a car and garage should be able to get credit for gasoline."

Hardy Trees and Shrubs Improve Drouth Areas

COLLEGE STATION: The use of hardy trees and shrubs in the planting plans for home improvement demonstrators has become increasingly important because of the drouth. Many plants in this classification are native to the areas where they are used and are thus available at little or no cost except for labor.

Two activities have played major roles in popularizing native plants for landscaping uses about the farmstead. Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reports that 4-H club members and their leaders and six workshops held at as many different locations over the state last year gave emphasis to the program.

Through the 4-H plant identification program, started in 1951, 4-H members learn to know and use in their home grounds improvement work plants which can take a lot of dry weather. Last year almost 2,200 4-H members received this training, and 537 of their leaders also carried out home ground improvement projects.

The six workshops were attended by 813 persons. They received training in arranging the home grounds for more comfort, convenience and attractiveness, controlling insect pests, soil management and related subjects. These courses were held at state colleges.

Miss Hatfield reports that statewide almost 2,000 lawns were seeded, 778 driveways and 1,100 walks made and 11,000 shade trees and 23,000 shrubs planted. In addition, outdoor living rooms, play and barbecue equipment and trash burners were added in large numbers. Miss Hatfield estimates the value of all improvements made during the year by demonstrators at more than $800,000. She credits the home demonstration agents and their leaders in the counties with making the program successful despite the continuing drouth. More, she adds, would have been achieved if the weather had been favorable, especially moisture wise.

Keeping Records Is Only Means of Proper Income

There is no time like the present, while last year's tax problems are fresh on your mind, to start a procedure that will aid you with next year's income tax calculations. That is to maintain a record of your income and outgo. Such a record can be simple and brief but it may save you tax dollars.

The average man who works for a wage or salary doesn't have to concern himself about keeping books and records—at least so he thinks. His employer keeps a reliable record of his earnings and Uncle Sam looks primarily to the employer for information on his earnings and for the withholding of various taxes out of his wages.

But whether or not you run a business of your own, you have a partner who each year is claiming a substantial interest in your personal income. And the law requires that you keep books for him in case he ever asks for an accounting.

Perhaps you own your home or are paying it out in installments. It's likely that some day you may sell that house. When you do you'll want to be able to prove whether you realized a gain or a loss on that sale. If a gain in capital resulted, it probably will add to your income tax. If a loss was suffered, it probably will reduce your income tax.

You may have made certain capital improvements on the house while you lived in it, but unless you can show what out-of-pocket expense you incurred while making them, you may not get credit for them in your cost basis so as to prove that you had no capital gain or that you had a loss.

Or perhaps you received that little summer cottage on the lake as a gift from your father. If you ever sell it, you should be able to show Uncle Sam not only the cost of improvements you made on it while you owned it, but also what its fair market value was at the time Dad gave it to you.

It may be that you are receiving an annuity on an insurance policy. If so, do you know how much that policy costs you and how much of that cost you have recovered tax-free to date?

There are many kinds of transactions you enter into that may some day affect the computation of your personal income tax. The best proof of the cost of anything you've purchased is a receipted bill or canceled check. If one of these pieces of evidence relates to any transaction that may affect your income in later years, it's a good idea to keep it. Your "partner" may some day ask to see it.

Both Parties Postpone Their Conventions

The announcement recently by the two major political parties that they would hold their conventions in late August and September of next year is of historic significance.

For many years now the parties have been staging their conventions in the summer. This has been necessary for years because the candidates nominated need much time in which to campaign before the November elections. The time was necessary because the candidates had to travel to every corner of the country and make many political talks and appearances, sometimes before small groups.

Now that much of the political campaign is conducted on television, not so much time is needed. The candidates can make a few television appearances these days and reach as many people as they reached in a week a few years ago. And whereas the presidential candidates have had radio at their disposal for some 30 years, in presidential campaigns, the American voter wants to "see" the man he votes in to be President.

With the Democrats opening their convention August 27th, and the Republicans expected to open theirs in September of next year, one can see that the time for presidential campaigning is considerably reduced. Whereas the conventions began in July, 1952, they will be starting next year more than a month later.

This is a reflection of the shorter, modern campaigns, in part produced by television, which will feature presidential elections in the future. We are highly in favor of shorter campaigns, and later conventions. In that way the voter will not have to make up his mind ten different times before he votes—he can just make it up eight times—and the presidential candidates will not wear holes in their shoes.

Any anyone who covered the 1952 convention in Chicago will be glad to know he does not face the prospect of another heat wave like that one, at convention time. From all angles then, the shorter campaigns are desirable.

Freedom exists only where the people take care of the government. —Woodrow Wilson.

REMEDIES

Two readers of a local newspaper wrote to the editor seeking advice on their trophies.

The first was the father of twins, and wanted to know the best way to get babies over teething troubles. The second was a man who asked how to protect his orchard from invading swarms of grasshoppers.

The editor answered them both carefully but unfortunately, he mixed their names, with the result that the man who was blessed with twins got the following reply: "Cover them with straw and set fire to them, and the pests will speedily be settled."

On the other hand, the inquirer plagued with grasshoppers read: "Give them a little castor oil and rub their gums gently with a bone ring."

Tech Defeated Buffs to Lead Border Group

Texas Tech's Red Raiders regained the lead in Border Conference at Lubbock Saturday night by stopping the previous loop leaders, West Texas State, 98-91, in a tightly-played contest.

Leading throughout the first half, the Red Raiders had to fight off the determined efforts of the West Texas Buffaloes the last 20 minutes.

Buffalo head coach Gus Miller lost the services of three of his starters via the foul route during the last half of play. John McClure departed with nine minutes left, James Scott bowed out with five minutes remaining while husky Ray Burrus left in the closing minutes of play.

When Scott left the contest with 5:05 remaining, the Raiders were nursing a slim 83-82 lead but the West Texas club seemed to wilt without the free throw artist's aid. Scott played the last half, until departing, with four personal fouls, which were tagged on him the first half. This is the first time this season Scott has fouled out of a contest, the previous number of fouls for Scott in one game was 2.

The Raiders led as much as 11 points, 29-18, during the first half. But Scott's pair of free throws and four fielders cut the gap to six points, 35-29, and the Buffs started drawing nearer the Raiders. Then with five minutes left in the half, the Buffs cut the distance to 41-39, on shots from the floor by McClure, Scott and a tap in by Bill Clifton. The Raiders, however, led at the half, 51-49.

Early in the last half the Buffs drew even, 53-53, on a two-point shot by Clifton and then the lead began to see-saw back and forth. However, the first time the Buffs had the lead, 55-54, resulted from a tap in by Burrus. Then the lead was just anyone's with neither team holding more than a two-point edge until McClure left on fouls.

Carl Ince put the Raiders out-front on a two-point shot and added a free toss for a 78-73 bulge. But West Texas roared back to draw within one point on a tap in by Clifton just before Scott went to the side line with his fifth personal.

Tech increased the lead after Scott's departure to 10 points and while the Buffs were feeling the gap left by Scott, the Raiders chalked up nine points to West Texas' two. With 1:10 left, Robinson hit a pair of two pointers and Rookie Rogers dunked in a free shot to cut the lead to five points, 96-91. But with three seconds remaining, the Raiders 6-8 center Eugene Carpenter, drove under for a lay-up to give Texas Tech the not-needed insurance marker.

5 Die, 58 Hurt In January by Rural Accidents

Texas Highway Patrolmen investigated 106 rural accidents that took the lives of five persons, injured 58 and did $67,922 worth of property damage in the month of January in the Amarillo District. Captain J. W. Blackwell of the Texas Highway Patrol released the January report and explained that the accidents did not include those in cities of more than 2,500 population nor accidents investigated by other police agencies.

Seventy of the January accidents occurred on state and federal highways, 20 on county roads, ten on farm-to-market roads and six in small towns. Speeding was listed as the principal violation as a causative factor leading to the accidents. Other causative factors listed in order were driving while drinking, careless or reckless driving, following too closely and improper turn.

During the month of December the main cause of rural accidents was speeding. Others as listed in the report were driving while drinking, failure to yield right of way, careless or reckless driving, and driving on wrong side of road when not passing.

In January 1954 rural accidents took the lives of three persons, injured 48, and accounted for $72,835 in property damage. These accidents in December of 1954 took the lives of nine persons, injured 62 and did property damage amounting to $73,396.

In performing their duties for the month of January the 29 patrolmen of the Amarillo District 5 Texas Highway Patrol Department, investigated 106 traffic accidents, made 589 arrests, and issued 1,756 hazardous warning violations. Most of the arrests made were on charges of speeding and driving while intoxicated charges.

Speeding accounted for 252 arrests and DWI for another 27. During the first month of 1955 the highway patrolmen served 18 safety responsibility police demand orders, and investigated four people for the purpose of getting driver's license restored.

The Amarillo District is composed of 26 Panhandle counties and in working these counties the patrolmen worked 4,515 daylight hours, 2,779 night time hours, and traveled 76,349 miles.

Around the Town..

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

The Sue Hite Club gave a delicious chicken-spaghetti dinner at high school cafeteria Wednesday night from 5:30 to 7. It was well attended. Two hundred people were served and the club took in $211. This money will be used for the Girl Scouts and the Library after the expenses are deducted. Apple pies were donated by the club members, rolls were donated by Meads Bakery of Amarillo, and the milk was donated by the Plains Creamery of Amarillo, but some of the food was purchased and will be paid for out of the $211. In addition to the chicken-spaghetti they served a vegetable salad, hot rolls, coffee, pickles, onions, sliced carrots and apple pie.

Mrs. Dewey Foster is president of the club. Mrs. Otis Parker was general chairman; Mrs. Thomas Devin was chairman of the decorations committee, and Mrs. Hatcher Brown was chairman of the preparation of the food.

For their decorations they had taken tumbleweeds shaped like trees and had hung them with red hearts and cherries with a hatchet by each convenient for George or anyone else who felt the urge to chop down a tree. Carrying out a patriotic and valentine theme they used drummer boys by the trees on the tables and decorated the walls with valentine girls.

Everyone enjoyed the food, the hospitality, and the fellowship so much they wished the club would give a dinner like this every month.

The Garden Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday. The discussion led by L. W. Cole and Dr. Ples Harper was enjoyed by all and many problems pertaining to our particular conditions were discussed by those present. Many good programs have been given in the club but this seemed to fill the needs best of all.

Now that the club is organized, we are looking forward to increased interest, and enlarged membership which will be of help to all interested in planting and landscaping their yards.

Young home owners and those who have recently moved to Canyon, will find the Garden Club beneficial and they are urged to come and learn from those who have tried successfully and unsuccessfully to beautify their homes.

Mrs. T. V. Crounse, who gave the book review Sunday, sponsored by the speech department, said: "It is an Indian tradition that if you know how to do anything, it is your duty to show others how to do it." This is what the Garden Club has in mind. We would like to keep others from making the expensive mistakes and blunders we have made.

At this meeting Dr. Harper gave the club the advantage of mass ordering of Mimosa trees. By ordering in this way a reduction in the price of the trees was taken advantage of. It is hoped that much money can be saved by ordering in this way.

Twenty-four attended the meeting.

OUR SPECIALTY

WARWICK'S

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland C. Angel moved from Amarillo to their farm northeast of Canyon in 1941. Mr. Angel is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. Angel who lived in Canyon until their deaths.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Angel built their present commodious, modern home on their farm eight years ago.

About two years ago they took into their home and hearts four small children who at that time were without a home. This was something of an undertaking for a couple who had never had children in their home before, but they enjoyed having these children so much that, knowing they would have to give them up eventually, they began a search for children they could adopt.

About a year ago they found a family of three children they could adopt for their own. They are Mary, 6 years old; Clifford, 4 years old; and the baby, Kenneth, 2 years old. The adoption papers were completed this January. Here two needs were filled: three homeless children found a loving home and a home that wanted children has that want beautifully fulfilled. Their joy and satisfaction is complete and one has the satisfying feeling that this home will continue to grow in the love of both children and parents.

"So . . . I sat on a log and thought for awhile.

Then out came a grin that spread for a mile.

If I'm just what I am

I said to me,

I'll be just about what I ought to be!" —Peggy Lee.

The United States is the only major nation without a national flower. In January Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me) and Rep. Francis P. Bolton (R-Ohio) introduced identical resolutions in the Senate and House which would designate the rose as the national flower of the United States. They felt this symbol should be added to the identification of our country. The rose represents courage, loyalty, love and devotion. It is probably grown over more of the United States than any other flower. This is one move by Congress that I am heartily in favor of.

Dewey Foster underwent surgery the first of February and Mrs. Foster took up his work of delivering the mail. Mrs. Foster says she likes the work so well that she will keep on with it after Mr. Foster is well.

The Oliver Grabbe's have named their new son Donald Ray. The Grabbe's have three daughters and while this son is the "apple of his parents' eye," he is the "petted darling" of his three older sisters, who can hardly wait for him to get big enough for them to dress him in boy's clothes.

I hope I'll always thrill to the beauty of the rising sun, beginning of another day — to a new-born baby, beginning of another life — to the laughter of small children — to a Church Choir singing sacred hymns — to the hand-clasp of a friend — to the love of those who share my life — to a fresh blown rose, in a garden wet with dew — to the beating of a drum, the music and the marching of a band — to the setting of the sun, marking the end of this day's labors — to the peace of evening hours — to sleep that brings forgetfulness of this day's blunders and mistakes — and when I can no longer thrill — to these the joys that now complete my life — then give me patience God — to bear my cross until the fire that burns within my soul — consumes the clay that can no longer feel.

I dropped in unexpectedly for a chat with Loula Grace Erdman and her mother. I needed help which Loula Grace gave me with a cup of tea and toast served from her interesting collection of cups. One with the Royal Coat of Arms of England's Queen Elizabeth, that marked her coronation and one, she says, is her prize cup, a left-handed cup, the only one of its kind I have ever seen. Mrs. Erdman has not been well this winter, but is better now and well on the road to recovery. Loula Grace says she is moving to Amarillo—and that will be a loss to Canyon.

Mrs. A. K. Knott will leave Thursday for a visit of about three weeks with her daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rianda and their two children, Susan, four years old, and Tom Kirk, one and a half years. The Riandas have built a new home out from Salinas, Calif., and will be moving in. Mrs. Knott expects to stay to help them move and get settled in their new home.

Mrs. Anne Wofford, who underwent surgery in Plainview, is visiting in Houston with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bogan.

The kingdom of God cometh not with observation; neither shall they say, Lo here or lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you. —Luke 17: 20-21.

Slow Leak Keeps 'Em Rolling

The tubeless tire, biggest news in the rubber industry since the development of balloon tires 33 years ago, will be standard equipment on most 1955 automobiles. Tests show the new tire gives blowout protection, and practically eliminates the need for changing tires along the road.

When the casing is injured, it goes flat gradually, carrying your car along as much as eight miles before all the air is lost. This development was made possible by oil-derived synthetic rubber. Former efforts to manufacture tubeless tires failed mainly because natural rubber was too porous.

Made to fit all passenger cars, the tubeless tires are also being used experimentally on planes, tractors, earth movers, and even wheelbarrows. Developments like this emphasize the huge job the oil industry faces in keeping up with the increasing demands for petroleum products.

LITTLE AMERICA

When the U.S.S. Atka arrived at Little America, they found much damage to the main camp established by Admiral Richard E. Byrd. A large section of the continental icecap had cracked loose and floated north. The Bay of Whales had completely disappeared.

Farmers Will Get Booklet on New Social Security

Almost everyone who gets his mail on a rural or star route will receive sometime during February a small booklet on social security for farm families. This booklet is published jointly by the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service. John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo District Social Security office, states that this booklet tells briefly how social security works and what farmers need to do.

A special feature of the booklet is an application form which employers of farm workers may send to District Directors of Internal Revenue in order to obtain further instructions, the tax return forms, and an employer's identification number. If a farm operator has a worker to whom he expects to pay at least $100 in cash wages during 1955, he needs to keep a record of the name, social security account number, and the amount of wages paid to the worker. Social security reports will be made on all wages of such employees along with the payment of the total of 4% tax, 2% of which may be deducted from the employee's wages.

Sanderson said that any farmers who do not receive a copy of this booklet through the mail by March 1 may obtain one from District Director of Internal Revenue or the Amarillo Social Security office.

THE BEST PORK

The group of fishermen stopped in at a backwoods farm house to see if they could buy lunch.

"Reckon so," said the farmer's wife, "effen you likes pork chops—that's all I got."

The hungry men fell to with a will and ate up the pork chops. Afterwards they complimented their hostess on the quality of the meat.

"Well, I should hope so," she replied, "that's none of your butchered meat. That hog died a natural death."

GETTING INTO HEAVEN

A little boy, caught in mischief, was asked by his mother: "How do you expect to get into heaven?"

He thought a minute and then said: "Well, I'll just run in and out and in and out and keep slamming the door till they say, 'For goodness sake, come in or stay out!' Then I'll go in."

The Eagle's Tale

29th Year Published by The Canyon News for Canyon High School Wednesday, February 16, 1955

The Eagle Speaks

Hello. I am the eagle that guards the entrance to Canyon High. I sometimes think I have failed my job for, although I have warded off outside invasion, something almost as destructive to a good high school has crept into our school. What is it you ask, so we can drive it out of our school immediately. The invader is discourtsey.

I have often wondered if the boys scuffling in the hall ever notice the disgusted looks that follow them down the hall. It seems that they go on their merry way down the hall, stepping on toes and running people down. Do these people realize that they could lose the friendship and respect that someone once had for them by just one trip down the hall.

I have also wondered if any of you have noticed the friendly atmosphere that follows a courteous person. Anyone is glad to be near a person who does not push to be first in line or crowd through doors. I have often noticed from my perch near the front door that a girl or teacher really appreciates having the door opened for her.

Only selfish and unthinking people are discourteous. That is what we have to fight in Canyon High.

Student of the Week

Ray Green, the first semester editor of The Eagle's Tale, is a senior who is extremely interested in art and music. He plans to attend West Texas State College, and Midwestern University, and enter the field of commercial art.

During Ray's four years of high school, he has held membership in choir, PTA, NHS, art club, Spanish Club, CCYC, the Soaring Wings staff, and the Eagle's Tale staff. He was president of the Spanish Club his sophomore year, served as CCYC publicity chairman last year, and is presently news editor for the paper staff, CCYC historian, and layout editor for the annual staff.

Dovie Keene, the second semester editor of The Eagle's Tale, is a senior who has excelled in many high school activities. Her ambition is to attend college and study to be either a teacher or a nurse, and her hobby is swimming.

While in high school, Dovie has participated in basketball, volleyball, band, NHS, Science Club, and The Eagle's Tale staff. Included in Dovie's many honors are sophomore class favorite, sophomore SFC member, 1953 Band Queen, 1954 Science Club president, Junior Who's Who, and senior class secretary.

Ping Pong Games Starred at Noon

The table tennis intramurals have begun as a noon activity. Plans for this activity were made by a committee consisting of Don Ray, Rhea June Ford, Ken Kuykendall, Carolyn Glanton, Arthur Lee Pruett, Don Britain, Mary Sue Bolton, Joan Payne, Eugene Boston, and coach Don Briggs.

Everyone is urged to participate in behalf of his class. All games played are doubles. Every pair that enters will gain one point for the class they represent, and if they win, one point will be given to that class. If the players fail to show up for the game, two points are deducted from that class's score.

It has been requested that all students who are not participating in this activity and are in the gym to please refrain from walking on the gym floor while the games are in session.

David: "Mr. Wells gave me a 75 on my algebra test last Wednesday because I'm so fat."

Ray: "How do you know that's the reason?"

David: "Because he kept marking, Reduce, Reduce, Reduce."

Open House, Basketball Game Staged

Completion of Addition Is Near

A long wait is almost over, as the new addition is near completion. All that is lacking is a little bit of equipment for the home-making and science departments.

Friday night the Eagles played their first game in the new gym which has folding bleachers and practice goals. The court is twice the size of a regulation court, and is divided into two courts for practice. Smartly finished in foam green, it is a pleasure to sit in the gym and watch a game.

Also finished in foam green, there is a feeling of rest and quiet in the homemaking department. A clothing lab, foods lab, and dining room area make up the home-making department. Beige colored wool carpet will cover the dining room floor, and maple furniture will beautify the room. Youngstown kitchens make modern looking units. There are five complete kitchen units. One unit has a dishwasher and garbage disposal for demonstration purposes.

A hall display case adds to the clothing lab. A small modeling podium is at the head of the classroom, giving the girls a chance to show off their new creations.

Modern science equipment will improve higher science classes. Classes will be held in the beautifully finished laboratory. A large storeroom will enable the instructor to make better demonstrations.

Seniors Will Tour Scenic Colorado

Colorado here we come! Denver, Colorado Springs, and Canon City are the sites that the CHS seniors will visit on their annual trip, as decided at a class meeting held Thursday, February 10, in the high school auditorium. A United States mint, the Colorado State capitol building, the Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun, Pikes Peak, Garden of the Gods, Seven Falls, a pottery factory, and a state prison will be among the many attractions of the tour.

Reports covering the cost, advantages, disadvantages, and possible entertainments of three different trips were given by Ken Kuykendall, Lucy Hollabaugh, Al Myers, and Alice Simms before the class reached a final decision. An additional order of business was the selection of a senior play. "Strictly Formal," a three-act play, was accepted after Alice Brotherton gave a summary of the content of the play. This play is a typical teen-age mix-up created by confusion over a junior-senior prom, with a cast of six boys and ten girls.

Measurements for caps and gowns were also taken.

Mr. Waylon Carroll and Mrs. Dan Sanders are senior class sponsors.

Jones, Dickerson Display Courtesy, Elected Queen, King of Smile Week

Displaying a "friendly" CHS smile, the Smile Queen and King, Martha Jones and Joe Dickerson, cordially accepted the reigning titles as the rulers of Smile Week, February 7-11.

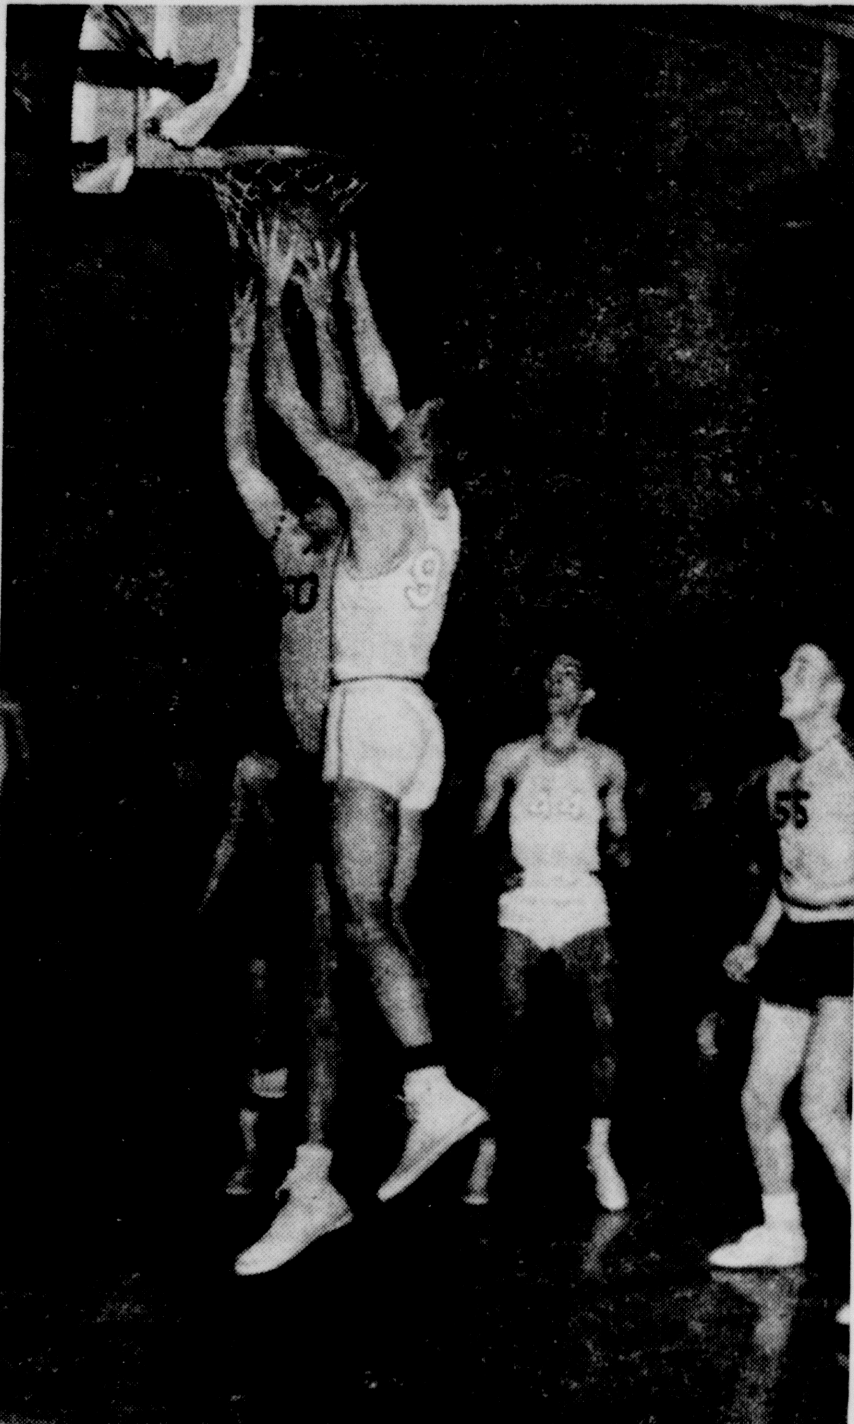

Smile Week was sponsored by the Student Faculty Congress. Elections for the high honor were held in the latter part of the brisk week.

An assembly was given Monday, February 7, in the CHS auditorium. The program expressed phases of courtesy in many amusing ways.

Each morning of the "courtesy" week a student gave a short speech on a friendly trait. Students and their topics were Charlotte Crain, "What a Spirit of Friendliness and Courtesy Can Mean to Our School," Marcus Robinson, "What It Means to Be a Cultured Young Woman," Dana Wilbanks, Devotional; Nancy Tomlinson, "What It Means to Be a Cultured Young Man;" and Theresa Mickey, "What We Can Do Individually to Develop Proper Habits of Courtesy."

Martha Jones, a sparkling, versatile senior, takes part in FHA, chorus ensemble, tennis, and basketball. She plans to enter the education department at West Texas State College after receiving her diploma this spring. Last year Martha entered Canyon High from Borger, and since that time she has made herself well known for her personality and friendly smile.

Joe Dickerson, "A" string basketball guard, has shown his spirit and sportsmanship abilities to opposing teams and at CHS. Previously, Joe has taken part in band, Science Club, FTA, and tennis. This year Joe was elected vice-president of the CHS Band and

The first game in the new gym brought unlimited excitement. In a tense moment, Joe Dickerson tries desperately to make that goal, as Charles Neblett comes up to join the excitement. Looks like the Hereford Whitefaces are on the ball too.

Charles Neblett Selected as 1955 Prince Charming at FHA Banquet

Main attraction of the Sweet-heart Banquet was the presentation of Charles Neblett, Prince Charming of 1955, by FHA president, June Davis. Charles Joyner was a close runner-up for this honor.

The cafeteria door was beautifully decorated with ruffles made of red net, and two huge intertwining hearts outlined in red and white. This was used as the background for the entertainment. Scattered on the walls were slogans of the heart, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," which was the theme of the banquet, "My Funny Valentine," "Sweetheart, Sweetheart," "Peg 'O My Heart," and "Sweet and Lovely."

Red ruffle "porcupines" and red and silver candles were used as decorations on the table. The place cards were large red hearts trimmed in white lace with the name in white letters.

June Davis, FHA president, was toastmistress for the program. The invocation was given by Mary Gladys Marshall, and introductions of guests were made. Norman Tuck, FFA state vice-president, gave the greetings.

The menu consisted of steak, green beans, scalloped potatoes, vegetable salad, biscuits, butter, strawberry shortcake, and iced tea. The meal was served by the eighth grade homemaking class.

Bob Wear, minister of the Church of Christ in Hereford, spoke to the group about the importance of a good home life. FHA, the initials of the organization, were discussed by using the terms fidelity, harmony, and affection.

An ensemble consisting of Debra McDonald, Wanda Rogers, Nelda Coffee, Jerry Matsler, and Theresa Mickey sang "Will You Remember Me" and "Sweethearts," accompanied by Diane Prichard. "A Man Chases a Girl" was sung by Debra McDonald and Theresa Mickey.

Mrs. Clara Long and Mrs. Penick were given gifts from the FHA chapter for their help and cooperation with the banquet. Helene Meyer and Arlene Bagley were presented with gifts for being high sales girls for FHA.

Mr. Tom Langston played piano selections during the banquet meal. Approximately 120 attended the affair. Mr. George Cristy, assisted by Mr. Pat Britain, took moving pictures as the guests entered the cafeteria and during the evening.

Choral Students See Fred Waring

Approximately 35 students will attend the Fred Waring variety show "Pleasure Time 1955" Thursday, February 16, in Amarillo. The trip is sponsored by Miss Ada V. Clark for her choral students. Miss Marilyn A. Payne and Mr. Herman Demus will help to chaperone the group.

The program will include selections by Fred Waring's orchestra and chorus known as "The Pennsylvanians." This is one of the Dolly Lynch concert series.

Hereford Hogties Hustling Eagles

Age-old rival, Hereford, edged by Canyon last week, 57 to 51, in the opening game of the newly constructed fieldhouse at Canyon.

Action aplenty sparked the battle as Eagle cagers exchanged lead scores with the Whiteface team throughout the four quarter campaign. Hereford held the point majority at the rest periods with 14 to 12, 26 to 20, 40 to 39, and 57 to 51; Canyon taking score advances, in play only to lose the lead in the final minutes of the quarters.

Neblett, Brandon, and Airhart worked the keyhole while Snapp, Dickerson, and Joyner played mid-court. Dickerson climbed from last week's slump of 15 to 19 points against the Whitefaces. Snapp followed having 8 scores in the point bracket. The Eagles held a near two-thirds in free-shot averages having 73% of free throws successful. Hereford rounded out a 67% average on free shots.

In B squad play Hereford dumped the Canyon under-graduate team, 45 to 36, with the Whiteface squad leading at the end of each period of play: 9 to 12, 18 to 21, 22 to 29, and 36 to 45.

Percentage on free shots for Canyon was 63%. Melvin Cunningham was high scorer with 18 trailed by Montgomery with 12 points.

Did You Know That

Hi kids! This is a new column in The Eagle's Tale. We hope it will be interesting to you and at one time or another give you some worthwhile piece of information.

Our column is centered around the faculty this week.

Mr. J. E. Miller, our principal, taught Spanish his first year in CHS.

Most of us have had Mrs. Beard for English at one time or another haven't we? But, girls, have any of you ever had Mrs. Beard for a basketball coach? Well, probably not but she coached in Crews and Blanket, Texas, before she became an English teacher.

Grade school principal Lawrence Brotherton coached boy's sports in CHS in 1933.

Mrs. Sanders began her career in Canyon High in 1943. She started teaching Spanish I and II, a typing class, and world history classes.

See you next week!

Doughnuts Sold To Buy Shrubs

They are cheaper by the dozen! That was the echo heard from the homemaking department recently. Homemaking I classes sold doughnuts to students and faculty members after school Thursday.

The purpose of this project was to raise money to buy shrubs which are to be planted outside of the new homemaking department.

Cagers Column

Hawks Receive Treatment

Facing the Phillips Blackhawks in a return match, Canyon B squad scrappers pounced on the Blackhawks, 46 to 28, on the Phillips floor last Tuesday, February 8.

Canyon boys routed the Hawks early in the contest, and throughout the remainder of the game by maneuvering the larger number of baskets into the Eagle scoring column with 14 to 6, 22 to 15, 33 to 21, and 46 to 28 at the rest periods.

Canyon's hot shot was Cunningham with nine field goals and two free shots. Scores of free shots averaged 60%.

Hawks Bop Eagles

Eagle five sparred with Phillips last Tuesday, February 8, leaving the court with the short score as the Hawks rolled over Canyon, 77 to 51.

Neblett and Brandon haunted the backboards as Joyner, Dickerson, and Snapp maneuvered in territories past the bottleneck.

Scorebook readings were 13 to 15, 31 to 38, 39 to 61, and 51 to 77 with the Hawks holding the point margins at the four breaks. Dickerson with 15, Snapp with 11, and Joyner with 10 tallies scooped the majority of Canyon points while Neblett and Brandon mixed elbows with Hawks in rebounding and screening.

Freshmen Win

Canyon fish ousted Stephen F. Austin Junior High of Amarillo

last week in Canyon's new gym, 63 to 50.

Arthur Lee Pruett nailed 24 points against the Amarillo ninth grade followed by Leonard Miller with 19.

The Inside Story of the New TUBELESS TIRES that are Standard Equipment on 1955 Cars Firestone Again Makes History by Providing Car Owners with Tubeless Tires at No Extra Cost

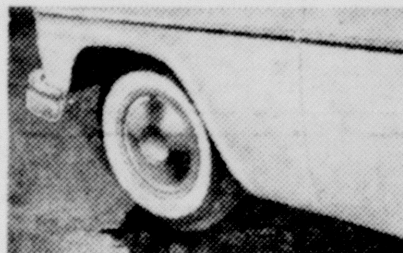

A NEW day has dawned for the car owners of America! Tubeless tires are now standard equipment on all of the new 1955 cars at NO EXTRA COST. Until now, tubeless tires have always sold at premium prices. But Firestone, after years of research and after investing many millions of dollars in engineering, in facilities and in new equipment, showed the industry how to build them to sell at the price of a conventional tire and tube.

Yes, Firestone, the Pioneer and Pacemaker, has done it again. The new Firestone De Luxe Champion Tubeless Tire at the price of a conventional tire and tube takes its place with the first non-skid tread, the first straight-side tire, the first balloon tire and many other Firestone "firsts" as a notable contribution to automotive safety, comfort and economy.

If you buy a 1955 model car, have it delivered on Firestone De Luxe Champion Tubeless Tires. Or, if you continue to drive your present car you can have it equipped with Firestone De Luxe Champion Tubeless Tires without changing your present wheels or rims, and get a generous allowance for the unused mileage in your present tires.

Only Firestone Gives You All These Built-In Advantages

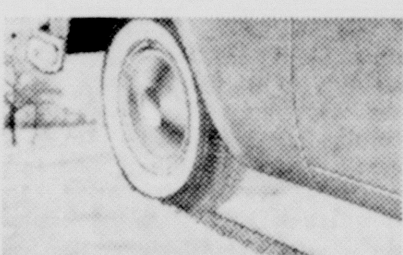

Blowout Protection

There's no tube to pinch or explode! The Safety-Liner, which holds the air, also reinforces the tire... instead of a dangerous blowout you get a harmless slow leak.

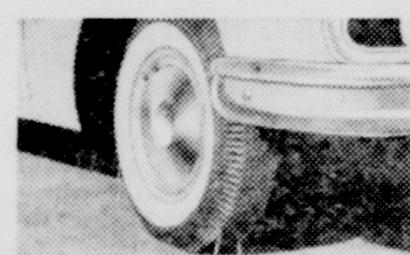

Quieter Running

No hum or whine because tread elements overlap each other to prevent rhythmic vibration. Silent Safety-Grip Tread won't squeal even on sharpest turns.

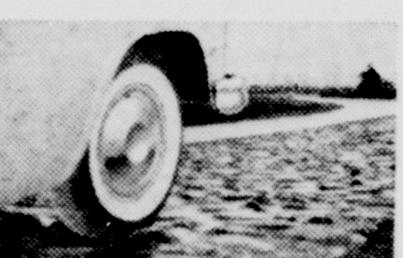

Skid Protection

Newly designed silent tread has more non-skid angles... more skid-protecting edges than ever before... has 70% more skid-resisters than ordinary tires.

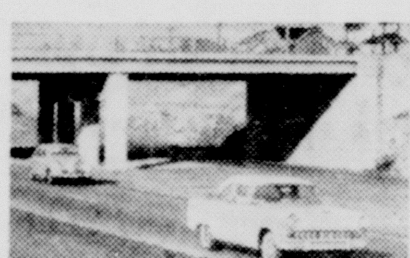

Puncture Protection

If a nail or any sharp object should penetrate this tire, the Safety-Liner grips it and slows air loss... No sudden flat tires, no need to change flats on the road.

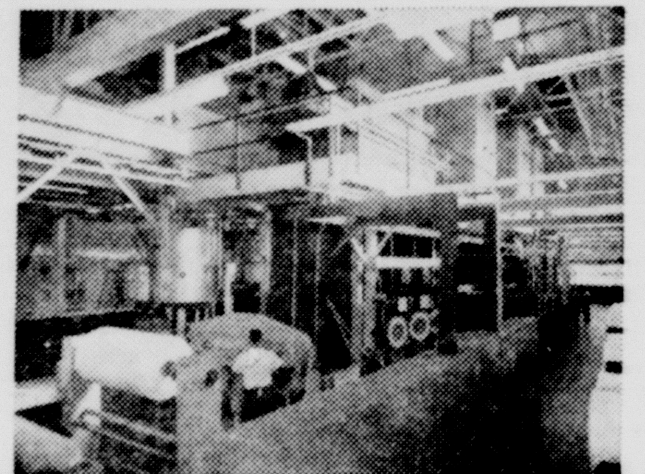

Greater Comfort

New resilient tread compounds and flexible tread design absorb bumps and road shock and cushion the ride. Elimination of the inner tube also provides a softer ride.

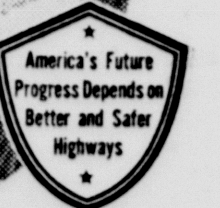

Longer Mileage

Tread is compounded of tough wear-resistant rubber for extra mileage. Safety-Tensioned, Gum-Dipped† Cord Body prevents tread cracking and can be retreaded again and again.

This new cord treating factory combines the famous Firestone Gum-Dipping process with Safety-Tensioning, a new process which takes the stretch out of tire cords. The result is greater blowout protection and longer tire life. No other tire gives you this safety feature.

WARREN'S

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

One of the things that probably should find its way into every newspaper column is a "we didn't mean to" department. It's only human to forget but because something is forgotten is no reason for completely skipping it. From time to time when this happens it should be brought to the public in such a manner as to let the people know it was not intentional. We can't send out belated cards nor make news out of something old and there's where the "we didn't mean to" department comes in.

If you're wondering just which forgotten bit of information we got that brought this on, we'll let you in on that too. More than a month ago Mrs. Hamblen at the Farm Bureau office told us about a new member they have over there. He is Odel Frazier who is a field man for the Bureau and is working the surrounding territory for his organization. Mr. Frazier is married and has a child and by now there are probably many people in town acquainted with the entire family. There you have the first in our "we didn't mean to" department. We hope it's the last but if it isn't we can always point to the old adage, "to err is human."

Have you noticed that in spite of the cold waves we have had recently the elm buds are continuing to swell? One thing about those elm trees, even if they get frozen several times during the early spring, they will still come out and get green when warm weather comes. It's almost impossible to kill one of those Chinese Elm trees. That makes them an excellent tree for this part of the country, although they are unpopular with many people.

One week from Saturday, on February 26, there will be another Randall County Junior Livestock Association Show conducted in Canyon. This will be the 8th annual show conducted by this organization. As County Agent John Brazill put it last week, "The shows are getting bigger and better all the time." There's going to be some surprise publicity connected with this one that will cause more than a little excitement. One week from Saturday judging of the animals will take place at the City Barn near the Fire Department here in Canyon.

It is the custom for business men and other supporters of the show to visit the farms and ranches of the boys who have animals to show a few days before the actual showing. This gives them a look at the animals as they appear in their daily routine. Sort of a work clothes appearance before being dressed up for the big showing. The supporters of the organization also see how the animals are being raised, what kind of lots and barns they grow up in and how the boys go about feeding them. They also learn some of the problems the boys have in raising these show animals and how much work is required to get the animals ready for the show ring. This trip for the 1955 show was taken on Friday, February 4. About 40 people went on it leaving the school house about 2:45 and returning about 5 o'clock.

The tour visited Walter Cranmer where they saw his show pigs, Art and Johnnie Miller where they saw steers, lambs and pigs all; Charles Conatser with steers and lambs; Jerry Roberts, lambs; Jesse Ogle, pigs; Joe Max Carver, pigs; Glen, Weldon, David and Melvin Tucek, steers and pigs; then returned to Canyon. From all outward appearances the Randall County Junior Livestock Association will have an excellent showing for its 8th annual show on Saturday, February 26.

Here it is time again for a few tart remarks that will help bring a smile and cause others to frown in disgust as they toss the paper aside. One of the most popular subjects for such material seems to be the institution of marriage. So today the jokes concern husbands and wives.

A wife picked up a newspaper that had a big story in it with the head, "One Wife Too Many." "It probably concerns a bigamist," she said to her husband.

He looked at her seriously a moment and said, "Not necessarily, dear, not necessarily."

Alimony is what happens when two people make a mistake and one of them continues to pay.

One wife called her husband boomerang because he always came back.

Saint Paul's Lutheran Church Setting For Bauer-Ramm Wedding Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST RAMM

Miss Mary Alice Bauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Bauer of Happy, became the bride of Ernest Ramm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Ramm of Muleshoe, on Sunday evening, January 23, at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Harold Kowstner of Hereford read the double wedding ceremony at Saint Paul's Lutheran Church in Canyon before an altar set with candelabra and baskets of white gladioli.

Miss Helen Meyer played appropriate numbers as pre-nuptial music, the traditional marches and accompanied Oscar Schuette who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

Misses Junell Bauer, sister of the bride, and Alice Marie Ramm, sister of the groom, as candle-lighters were dressed in pink taffeta and net fashioned after the bride's gown. They had wristlets of pink feathered carnations and pink net headdresses.

Mrs. Franklin Bauer of Friona, sister-in-law of the bride, as matron-of-honor was gowned in blue nylon net over taffeta styled with a bouffant skirt. Her headdress was of blue nylon net matching headdress.

Misses Gladys Leseberg of Canyon and Linda Kube of Farwell, cousin of the groom, attending the bride as bridesmaids, were gowned in identical dresses of yellow and orchid with matching yellow and orchid headdresses. Their gowns were fashioned after that of the matron-of-honor. They carried nosegays of orchid and yellow carnations.

Miss Gaye Ramm of Lariat, niece of the groom, in a miniature bride's gown of white nylon carried the rings on a satin pillow. Fred Ramm of Lariat, brother of the groom, was best man. Lee Roy Bauer, brother of the bride, and Herman Gerles of Altus, Okla., cousin of the groom, were groomsmen. Franklin Bauer of Friona, brother of the bride, and Reese Wilterding of Muleshoe were ushers.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was gowned in white slipper satin fashioned and made by her mother. Delicate flowers embroidered of pearls marked the scallops of the neckline which joined to a lace yoke and collar. The fitted waist joined the bouffant skirt with a pointed front. The sleeves ended in petal points. Her two-tiered finger-tip veil attached to a pearl covered white satin hat was borrowed from Mrs. Franklin Bauer. Something old was a handkerchief, embroidered

Mrs. Ted Hefner Honored With Bridal Shower

Mrs. Ted Hefner, nee Barbara Ann Winters, was honored with a wedding shower at the home of Mrs. Lon Fanning Friday afternoon from 3:30 until 5:30 o'clock.

Receiving rooms were decorated with the bride's chosen colors, orchid and white. The bride's table was laid with an ecru Quaker lace cloth with orchid lining. Centering the table was a beautiful arrangement of orchid stock, white gladioli, white laceron, orchid ribbon bows, and flanked by crystal candelabra with tall orchid tapers. The bride's corsage was of white carnations with orchid lace ribbon. Mrs. Fanning, Mrs. Winters and the honoree greeted the guests.

Mrs. L. E. Gum registered the guests. Miss Mary Owens served the cake and Miss Billene Childers lauded the punch. Miss La Nell Gum played a soft background of musical numbers during the entertaining hours.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Fanning were Mesdames Crews Henry, A. B. Holt, C. A. Castleman, Nell Sheets, Tom Foster, Harry Ford, Les Raymond, E. L. Hardaway, Murray Boston, Bill Money, L. E. Gum, D. J. Maynard, and J. R. Dodson.

with a blue design, that belonged to her grandmother. Her jewelry was a three strand pearl necklace and a wrist watch, gifts from the groom.

Her bouquet was a white orchid centered in stephanotis and tied with satin streamers cascading in loveknots.

Mrs. Bauer, mother of the bride, wore a navy and gray pin-checked dress with black accessories. Mrs. Ramm, mother of the groom, wore a navy dress with white trimmings. Her accessories were navy. Both wore corsages of white carnations and red rosebuds.

Following the ceremony the bridal party was honored with a reception at the American Legion Hall. The bride's table was laid with lace over blue. The bouquets of the bride's attendants formed the centerpiece. Tapers in low two-branched candleholders flanked the tiered wedding cake. Massed white gladioli formed a background for the table.

Mrs. Gus H. Leseberg and Mrs. Fred Ramm presided at the cake service while Miss Lula Spiser and Mrs. Herman Gerles served punch.

Miss Frances Zello registered the more than 200 guests that attended. Miss Marlene Dietrich played the musical background for the reception.

The bride was graduated from Canyon High School last spring. The groom was graduated from Muleshoe High School and served two years in the U. S. Army in Germany.

They will make their home on a farm at Lariat.

BLAST SURPRISES MAN

Oakland, Calif. — A pedestrian, sauntering down the street, stopped to light his pipe and half a block of sidewalk began to burn with a bang. The startled pipe-smoker fled and police never could find him to learn if he had been burned. A leaking gas main beneath the pavement caused the explosion and the trail of fire which ran along the cracks. A truckload of sugar valued at $10,000, was destroyed.

GEES EAT RICE

Humpty Doo, Australia. — The efforts of an American-British-Australian company to make a barren tract of Northern Australia bloom with rice fields are being defeated by massive clouds of geese, measuring as much as 3 miles across. The geese eat the rice as fast as it is sown and guns by day and lanterns, flares and explosions by night so far have failed to control the birds.

New York. — Nicola Rubbo, 29-year-old Italian farmer, recently met his father for the first time. Nicola's father, Dominico Rubbo, 59, was married in Italy and shortly thereafter emigrated to New York. Nicola was born several months later. BABY SAVES OWN LIFE

Toronto. — Little Charlene Giavanni, 18-months-old, was left in the basement to play while her mother went upstairs to do some washing. When Mrs. Giavanni tried to return to the cellar, heavy smoke turned her back. Attempts to get into the cellar were being made when Charlene crawled up the steps in a cloud of smoke. She was treated at a hospital for burns on her face, hands and feet, but her condition was not considered serious.

BIRDS ON A BINGE

SURPRISED THIEF

Baltimore, Md. — The man who smashed a window at a wholesale meat market and stole two Smithfield hams was due for a tremendous surprise. The owner of the store, Ben Arkesman, told police the man actually got two dummies — cloth bags usually used for the hams but in this instance they were filled with sawdust.

AD PAYS OFF

Liberty, Ky. — Nothing happened when Mrs. Lutie Combest put an advertisement in the paper for a lost lawnmower and a fireplace grate. Nothing daunted, she decided to put in another ad to sell a pile of lumber behind her house. When the lumber was sold and removed, the lawnmower and grate were found—at the bottom of the pile.

COW HAS TRIPLETS

Baltimore, Md. — An Aberdeen-Angus cow, owned by Donald M. Culber, of Edgehill Farms in Glyndon, recently gave birth to triplets — three bull calves — so rare a phenomenon that it occurs only three times in every 10,000 births.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Famous Russian's Evaluation Of The Bible

President's Official Family Is Split Over the War Situation

WASHINGTON: The testimony of Army Chief of Staff Matthew Ridgway, before the House Armed Services Committee the other day, points up a split in the official governing circle of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Whereas the President, and the Secretary of Defense, want the Army trimmed by several hundred thousand men by mid-1956, General Ridgway, the President's Chief of Staff, cannot go along with this program.

This is nothing unusual on the Washington scene. Congress traditionally questions the military and appropriates defense monies in accordance with that testimony—often entirely apart from the proposals made by the Chief Executive and his executive branch of government.

In former years, before the obvious farce of it became too well recognized, Congress used to slice up the military pie about evenly, in pre-World War II days, between the Army and Navy and in later years between the three services. The military brass of each service tried hard each year, before the appropriate congressional committees, to get their equal "share" of defense money.

Of course, defense needs have become so serious, and vital, that a service's "share" is no longer even talked. It is now what the country needs in the way of defense as a result of the probable enemy and the probable form of attack. Because we are isolated from our enemies by land, and have the biggest navy in the world the present defense program is logically built around a strong air force.

But once again the problem of a President's "military cabinet" agreeing on an Administration defense program is real. President Truman's Joint Chiefs went through the same motions. The President would tell Congress one thing and his Joint Chiefs might come up on Capitol Hill and tell Congress something quite different.

The lack of coordination this causes has been praised as a safeguard and criticized as an impossible situation. The system is certainly a different one from that employed by some democratic governments in Europe, where ministers of the various departments are often duty-bound to back up the government's over-all program.

The problem in the U. S. actually resolves itself into the old bugaboo of unification, in a sense. Each service is looking out for its own interests and role, and jealous of any expansion of the others.

The President—though Ridgway's testimony hurts chances for his recommended defense program—is watching the disagreement quietly. As he has done on other occasions, he is tolerating a wide difference of opinion, which he thinks is completely honest. Yet this testimony—against reducing the strength of the Army (and Navy)—may be highly influential on many Democrats, who are now in the majority.

The President may find that his own Joint Chiefs of Staff, his appointees, are the officers who will finally defeat his new-look defense program.

In Washington there is much speculation on the attitude of leaders in the Kremlin concerning the Formosa crisis. Foreign intelligence reports, and some U. S. reports, agree that Moscow Communists are more hesitant to run the risk of a major war now than the Chinese Reds.

bent on having their way, and on dragging the Russians into the world fray with them, if necessary. But unlike the Kaiser of 1914, who sought—too late—to restrain his Austro-Hungarian ally, the Russians seem hesitant to speak bluntly to the Chinese Reds.

For one thing, the Chinese Reds have become increasingly independent, and USSR-Red China relations actually cooled somewhat in 1954. China is three times as large as Russia, in population, and the Soviets want to be sure to retain the friendship of their principal ally in any event.

But the Russians also know that a war between the U. S. and Red China would not do Russia any harm. Thus the Soviets are torn between the prospect of seeing the U. S. get involved with China, with Russia on the sidelines aiding China, and the opportunity to intervene with the Chinese Reds in behalf of peace, and a ceasefire.

So far, the Russians, though not as openly bombastic as the Chinese, have not made the final decision. But there are signs that, in spite of a fear of general war, the Russians would not be disappointed if the United States were drawn into a general engagement with the 600 million Communist Chinese.

Not All Folks Gone to Smash In a Big Way

To read some of the big daily newspapers, and to listen to the radio broadcasters you will be led to believe that America is going to hell at a fast and furious speed.

Here are a few facts which should cure your headaches:

There are 162,922,000 Americans who are not members of the Communist Party.

Some 37,011,460 couples will stay more or less happily married during the year.

Some 162,717,890 persons will not die of cancer in 1955.

And 162,380,580 persons will be safe from fatal heart attacks.

Most of the time, 15,720,000 organized workers are not on strike.

The Internal Revenue Service will find that 43,846,154 income tax returns are filed correctly in 1955.

On the average, there are 63,880,000 people working to bring home the bacon.

Last year, the scheduled airlines safely carried passengers 18,902,134,841 miles in the U. S. and possessions; railroads safely carried passengers 31,674,931,200 miles.

And finally, there are 83 countries in the world that have not discovered the secret of the hydrogen bomb.

Christianity or Communism ?

AMERICANISM and CHRISTIANITY or COMMUNISM and ATHEISM... which do you want? The inescapable challenge facing the Christian world today is COMMUNISM. COMMUNISM is OFFICIALLY ATHEIST. To destroy the American principle of FREEDOM of WORSHIP is the declared intention of this ANTI-AMERICANISM.

Several years ago the Comintern declared: "The ultimate aim of the Communist International is to replace world capitalist economy by a world system of Communism... It would bury forever all mysticism, religion, and superstition." That anti-God declaration has never been challenged. In fact, it has strengthened its atheistic principles to a point that has rarely been seen before in history. The Truth is, Communism cannot live with Christianity, because it is a religion unto itself, as much so as it is a system of politics and economics.

COMMUNISTS declare theirs is simply the "scientific" application of the teachings of history. They also say theirs is not only a "scientific" system but is the ONLY SYSTEM.

Communists say Christianity is superstition. They refer to Christianity as something especially designed to capture the masses for exploitation by capitalist masters. Communists say "DOWN WITH THE CROSS WHICH IS THE SYMBOL OF FAITH FOR THE CHRISTIAN WORLD."... Therefore, Communism and Christianity become the two great rival Faiths of the Twentieth Century.

CHRISTIANITY believes one thing about the nature of man and his destiny, the nature of morality, the basis of ethics, and the nature of the Universe. COMMUNISM believes the exact opposite. CHRISTIANITY believes in the INDIVIDUAL and in the RIGHTS OF MAN. COMMUNISM believes the individual is the wholly owned SLAVE OF THE STATE. THIS atheistic, materialistic, conspiracy threatens to engulf the whole world. Unless it is stopped our liberties, political, civil and religious rights, will go the way of the unfortunate nations which have already been crushed to earth behind the iron curtain of Moscow. If you believe in God and the Bible of the Lord God Almighty, won't you help hold high the CROSS. It is being chopped down with the sickle by Communist enemies. For the sake of all that is dear to you—attend your church and support her good work.
